

APSC FIREARMS INSTRUCTOR

Fairbanks, AK
23-27 May, 2016

Alaska Police Standards is sponsoring a five day firearms instructor class, hosted by the Fairbanks Police Department and Fairbanks Airport Police. This class is open to full-time police officers who have, or will successfully complete a recognized Methods of Instruction certification class. Completion of both classes is required by APSC to instruct firearms courses.

Students will be certified to instruct handgun, carbine, and shotgun. All qualification scores will be fired on the appropriate DPS course. Each student will get two attempts pass each qualification, and 90% is required on each weapon, and manipulations (types 1, 2, one 3 malfunctions, speed and tac reloads) must be completed within specified times. The courses of fire and times for manipulations will be provided to each student.

REQUIREMENTS

THIS IS NOT A SHOOTING SCHOOL. Each student must be proficient in shooting and manipulations before attending the course.

Each student must bring usual range equipment; handgun, duty belt, holster, and magazines; a service carbine with spare magazines, magazine carrier, sling, and optic (if desired); a duty shotgun with sling and ammo carrier.

Ammunition

Handgun- 750 rounds of practice, 100 rounds duty

Carbine- 750 rounds of practice, 100 rounds duty

Shotgun- 300 rounds buckshot, 50 rounds slug
