

How to Confirm Professional Licensing in Alaska

You can verify professional licenses in Alaska through the state's official licensing website:
<https://www.commerce.alaska.gov/cbp/main/Search/Professional>

To search for a license, enter the examiner's last name in the search field. Then click on their license number to view detailed license information.

For psychologist examiners, the program should be listed as Psychology, the type should be Psychologist, and the license status must be Active.

For psychiatrist examiners, the program should be listed as Medical, the type should be Physician or Osteopathic Physician, and the status should be Active. Under "Designations," the examiner should have a psychiatry specialty listed.

For out-of-state license checks, follow a similar process using the appropriate state's professional licensing website.
